2014

We are taking time during our Sunday morning messages to see and hear how the Holy Spirit worked among the believers after Jesus left earth to be glorified at his Father's side. We have also had the privilege of hearing from different ones among us about their spiritual journey and how the Holy Spirit continues to work today. Both testimonies are sacred and instructive to us all: God continues to work in his world to make disciples who listen to his voice and obey him.

This is a part of the reason for my different approach to the sermon time on Sunday mornings! (in case you may have been wondering.) While some people are satisfied with sitting, listening and going away to critique and ponder what they have heard, the Holy Spirit is calling God's people to hear and obey the word of God (the old English meaning for "hearken").

My prayer and hope for DSCC is that some individuals will begin to hear the voice of the Lord calling them to invite people in their circle of influence to participate in a Bible Discovery Group. Taking the six questions we use each Sunday, anyone—young or old, new Christian or mature—can lead others in discovering what the Bible has to say and helping them to hear and obey what the Holy Spirit tells them.

This strategic method of inviting others to discover what the Bible has to say allows the Holy Spirit to speak and work. You and I do not have to convince anyone. We do not need to convict anyone of what is right and wrong. It is simply a matter of taking them to Scripture and saying, "if this is true, then how does this change the way you live today?"

Our work is to simply pray for open hearts, invite and allow the Holy Spirit to do the work he is so good at doing—bring people to Jesus! Do you have a friend or two or three who may be interested in discovering what Jesus said and taught? Do you have a neighbor or co-worker or relative who seems interested in spiritual things who may be open to simply reading the words of Jesus to see what he actually teaches and commands?

Then you are the perfect candidate to be used by the Lord to lead people to Jesus by simply using six simple questions. I believe that this is one strategic way that the Lord wants to grow DSCC to reach spiritual seekers. Let's see how many Bible Discovery Groups we can start this fall that reaches new people who are looking for answers to spiritual questions.
